Who We Are

Systech was incorporated in Kenya in 1998 with its mission being to provide ICT services to the African market. Systech brings together the world's best technologies and skills to create custom software that allows organizations in niche markets particularly those in the retirement benefits marketplace, the flexibility and scalability ensuring peace of mind in service delivery, service availability and data management.

Our management skills, technical expertise in pension administration and software development together with our commitment to our clients ensures that we find areas of service provision and synergies with data driven organizations in the retirement benefits marketplace committed to ensuring first class business operations.

Our flagship product FundMaster, is the number one pension and benefits administration system in the region with installations in Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Zambia, Ghana, Malawi and more. Our strategic intent is to become the number one provider of custom software solutions in niche markets that enhance our customers' competitiveness by:

- ❖ Enabling them to deliver services to their customers effectively in markets not well served by generic software applications.
- ❖ Providing them with information to enable them make strategic decisions by utilizing best of breed reporting and analytics tools.
- ❖ Assisting them in coordination and control of their strategic initiatives by providing them with the tools and technology to reengineer and implement their processes.
